

HALLOWEEN PARTIES.

Barr, E. E. Ryan, Walker, Henderson, Andetta.

The El Paso School for Girls had its first party on Halloween. The guests on their arrival were entrusted to the care of sheeted ghosts, who conducted each one in silence to an upper room. Here each guest was blindfolded, and then led by other ghosts down a secret stairway into the witches' cave. After the charms proper to Halloween had been tried, and each girl had had her fortune told, the astrologer on the lawn showed the stars and the rings of Saturn through the three inch telescope lent by a friend of the school. Then the rising of the five spirit were performed by toasting marshmallows and popping corn before the open fire. With singing and dancing and games the time passed until the bell struck the magic hour, when every girl drew the stunt that a secret message from the witch had commanded her to do.

After refreshments had been served, in true Halloween style, before the fire, the hats and "little creatures" ushered the guests back to the ordinary world where fathers and mothers were waiting to take them home.

Among those present were: Misses Rosalie Behr, Genevieve and Elsie Collins, Alice Brown, Olive Gachene, Blanche Davis, Lucille Duffy, Shirley Eaton, Clara Hawkins, Sara Jarrett, May Kransthor, Margaret Kerr, Irene Laughlin, Mary Nations, Emilie Orneson, Edna Orneson, Margaret and Jeannette Richardson, Holland Sharpe, Elizabeth Stevens, Leona Walker and Gertrude Warren.

Charles M. Wilson, 1813 Texas St., El Paso, Tex., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for many years and have been given ample proof of their merit. In February, 1907, I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and at the present time, I take pleasure in confirming all I then said about them. I began to suffer from kidney trouble over twenty years ago and during changeable weather or when I took cold, my condition was always worse. I had an acute pain in my right side and any sudden movement caused sharp twinges to dart through my body. Often I was confined to my bed for a week at a time. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Kelly & Pollard's Drug Store and they brought me prompt relief. As this remedy has always benefited me when I have used it since then, I naturally hold a high opinion of it."

"An Everyday Occurrence"

Good morning, Mr. Brown.
Good morning, sir.

Mr. Brown, my name is John Doe. I wrote you yesterday applying for a position.

Yes, Mr. Doe; I have just dictated a reply, saying that I could not use you.

Why, Mr. Brown, I am disappointed. I heard you needed a young man, and as you and my father and grandfather are such good friends, I felt sure that you would give me the position.

Young man, I am sorry you are disappointed. It is true that I need a young man, and it is true that I know your father and your grandfather, and I am a good friend of theirs, but you know "business" is "business." A business man can't mix sentiment with business. I cannot employ you merely because your father and I are good friends. That is sentiment. This is a business matter. I must have some one who is able to do my work, and who can do it right now. In the first place you cannot write a good, legible business hand. You cannot even compose a business letter. Your letter of application shows that. In your letter you stated that you know nothing of bookkeeping or shorthand; that you know nothing of business forms, commercial paper, etc., and that you are poor in figures, but that you are willing to learn. To sum it all up in a nutshell, you have not had any business training. How, then, could you expect me to employ you? I advise you to first become qualified for a position, then get one.

Why, Mr. Brown, I can learn these things by degrees while in your office, and that is what I expected to be allowed to do. Why, how else is a young fellow to get a start and become qualified?

Young man, I told you a little while ago that business is business. A business man in this day and time can't take his time to teach employees. He has plenty of other things to do. I suggest that you lose no time in going to and take a thorough course without delay. They make it a business to train young men and young ladies for business. In other words, they have been in the business for a long time, have studied the needs of business men, and make it their business to give their pupils just such training as is required to hold positions. It is true that you could get a start if you could get in some office, but it is difficult to get the training in that way. Time is money to any man, young or old. You can accomplish in a few months at Draughon's college what it would take you three or four years to accomplish by staying in an office. Hence, it is cheaper and better to go to one of Draughon's Colleges and fit yourself for a position. You are now asking for employment when you know nothing about the work we have to do. You might as well go down to the depot and ask for a job as a locomotive engineer when you do not know the difference between the steam gauge and the cow catcher. Young man, remember me kindly to your father, but tell him that you cannot do anything that I have to be done unless you take a course in Draughon's Practical Business College.

People are realizing more every day the need of a PRACTICAL BUSINESS EDUCATION. DRAUGHON'S GUARANTEE to teach more Bookkeeping in three months than their competitors can in six months.

OVER 75 per cent of the OFFICIAL COURT REPORTERS of the U. S. write the system of shorthand taught at DRAUGHON'S COLLEGES.

They now have 50 colleges in the U. S. and expect to be represented in every important city in the U. S. in a very few years.

A scholarship bought at Draughon's gives you life tuition in 50 colleges, and more as they are opened.

DON'T FAIL to visit them while at the FAIR. The Exhibit will interest you.
